MEETING NOTICE

Thursday, Marsh 12th, 2026, 11:30 am - 1:00 pm

The Edge at 31 N Pauahi St.

“D&O vs. EPLI: What’s the Difference?”

Employment Practice Liability Insurance (EPLI) and Directors & Officers (D&O) Insurance are the two most commonly triggered policies in employment disputes. If you and your company are facing a lawsuit, the first step is determining which one applies. Attorney Anna Elento-Sneed will compare the coverage of both policies with respect to:

- Who is covered
- The purpose of each policy
- Covered risks
- Exclusions
- What costs will be paid for

Anna will also discuss:

- Growth of specialty insurance (e.g., cybersecurity and insurance packages geared to specific industries)
- Risk management tips for adopting standards of conduct, training on fiduciary responsibilities and job duties, and mapping out decision-making processes

Anna Elento-Sneed is the President and Founding Director of ES&A, Inc., a next generation law firm that is rethinking the way legal work is done. Anna has been advising employers and organizations for more than 42 years on labor & employment law, government contracts and business strategy, including corporate governance. Anna is also consistently named among the Best Lawyers in America, and is highly ranked by Chambers USA. She is a member and former Director of the Employment Law Alliance, a global network of labor and employment attorneys, and is the global chair for ELA’s specialty group on Artificial Intelligence/Cybersecurity/Data Privacy.
