Thank you note from Kevin Glennon:

Thank you for your interest in my presentation, "Game-Changing Strategies to Transform Workers' Compensation Results." Please find it attached to this email.

Challenges in managing workers' compensation injuries today include dealing with a workforce that is often older, overweight, sicker and overmedicated. Fortunately, there are solutions offered through a continuum of care to address these factors ensuring injured workers quality care with a fast, safe return to work.

If you have any questions, or on any issues concerning managing care for today's workers, please feel free to contact me directly.

Sincerely,
