

Christopher P. McGill

Market President

Christopher McGill's career has been devoted to transforming communities by building open, relationships between lender and borrower.

He has been part of the Bryn Mawr Trust team since 2018, providing leadership as part of the company's commitment to connecting clients with the team members who can handle all their financial needs. Before joining BMT, he was Chief Lending Officer and Executive Vice President with DNB Financial Corp.

As Market President, Christopher oversees business development and relationship management in the Philadelphia and Southern New Jersey market.

A graduate of Loyola University New Orleans, Christopher received his bachelor's degree in Business Administration. Active in his community, he is the current chairman of both the Old City District and the Old City Community Fund, a community development corporation. Additionally, he serves on several boards and committees including North Light Community Center, Schuylkill Center for Environmental Education, and Old Saint Joseph's Church.
