Robert Messer

Senior Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer, The American National Bank of Texas

Robert Messer is an executive vice president and chief financial officer of American National Bank of Texas. He has been with the bank since 1983.

“American National Bank of Texas is value driven and will always try to do the right thing,” Robert says.

Messer has more than 34 years of experience in banking and has served a variety of professional organizations.

Messer is currently active with The Risk Management Association (RMA), where he serves as Community Bank Council chairman and a member of its board of directors. He also chairs the Texas A&M University Mays Business School, Finance Department, Banking Advisory Board, and the Career and Technical Committee to the Terrell Independent School District.

Messer has a Bachelor of Science from Texas A&M University, a Master of Business Administration from Texas A&M University-Commerce, and has done post graduate work at University of Texas at Dallas. He holds a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) license

William Githens

CEO of The Risk Management Association

William F. Githens was appointed president and CEO of The Risk Management Association (RMA), effective January 26, 2010.

Mr. Githens joined RMA in 1997 as director of Member Relations. He has been responsible for establishing and organizing the member relations functions to serve RMA’s members, including community banks, large banks, global banks, and the chapter network.

Githens also directs enterprise risk management and credit risk initiatives and activities for the association. He is actively involved with the regulatory agencies and interacts frequently with chief risk officers and other risk professionals in the financial services industry.

Prior to joining RMA, Githens was employed for over 25 years in various leadership roles in financial services. He served as senior vice president of Member Relations for Visa USA, was president and CEO of SynapQuest, Inc., a subsidiary of CoreStates Financial Corporation, and managed various credit and non-credit functions in CoreStates and its predecessor institution, First Pennsylvania Bank.
