Bankers Best Practices in Our Evolving Landscape

Every account, every transaction, every loan requires specific documentation. This event will address common and unusual circumstances bankers encounter in the loan life cycle. Leading attorneys will lead a lively discussion on current developments and practical pointers. You won't want to miss this informative event.

Guest Speakers

Oklahoma City: Jared Giddens is immediate past Chairman of Conner & Winters and remains active in the firm's management. Mr. Giddens has been practicing more than forty years with vast experience representing lenders, as well as their counterparties, through all phases of the commercial lending relationship, including diligence, credit, structuring, litigation, workouts and reorganization. As a former CPA, he understands the client's objectives and the need for solutions that enhance the bottom line.

Anna McNeil is an Associate with Conner & Winters and has been with the firm since her graduation from the University of Oklahoma College of Law in 2021. Her primary practice areas are banking and finance and regulatory matters. During law school, Ms. McNeil graduated in the top five percent, earned the Deans Honor Roll, Andrew M. Coats "Top Ten" Comfort Scholarship and the Pro Bono Award. She also served as the Assistant Managing Editor for the Oklahoma Law Review and participated in the Victim's Advocacy Program, Organization for the Advancement of Women in Law and the Board of Advocates.

Tulsa: Hayley Stephens is a partner with Conner & Winters and has been with the firm since graduation from Vanderbilt Law School in 2015. Her primary practice areas include banking, real estate and commercial litigation. Ms. Stephens has substantial experience representing financial institutions including commercial lending, foreclosure and collection actions and misappropriation of trade secrets litigation. In addition to practicing law, Ms. Stephens is active in the firm's marketing and business development activities. She also sits on the board of Youth Services of Tulsa and is a newly-appointed member of the Tulsa Performing Arts Center Trust's Board of Trustees.
