INTERNSHIPS, FELLOWSHIPS & JOBS

U.S. Department of Transportation (Washington, DC), National Transportation Library (NTL) Data Management/Data Curation Fellow

<https://www.zintellect.com/Opportunity/Details/DOT2018-07>

Joining the Data Curation and Data Management (DCDM) team at the National Transportation Library (NTL), the selected participant will be offered an opportunity to gain hands-on learning and skills in data management and data curation best practices, relating to transportation data, including aviation data produced by the BTS offices and US DOT funded researchers. The Fellow will learn to create and evaluate data management plans; craft data curation standards, operating plans and policies. The Fellow will learn how to catalog datasets for preservation, conduct data format migration and be exposed to other data services; all within the context of providing access to an entire research or statistical package which will contain data and reports.

U.S. Department of Transportation (Washington, DC), National Transportation Library (NTL) Collection Analysis and Digital Preservation Fellow

<https://www.zintellect.com/Opportunity/Details/USDOT-2019-0004>

Join the National Transportation Library (NTL) and be offered an opportunity to gain hands-on learning and skills in collection analysis and digital preservation, relating to transportation. The Fellow will learn to use Tableau to create and analyze NTL Collections and create bibliometric dashboards. The Fellow will learn how to identify, evaluate, and process legacy content of historical significance for long term digital preservation. Content may include audio files, research datasets, reports, still images, and memos. The Fellow will learn to migrate formats as needed to preserve usefulness, apply metadata, and add to transportation collections in NTL's digital repository.

U.S. Marine Corps (Quantico, VA), Archives Intern

<https://grc-usmcu.libguides.com/marine-corps-archives/main/internships>

Application Deadline: March 1, 2019

The Marine Corps History Division is now accepting applications for summer interns in the field of history, archives, editing and graphic design. These internships are paid through the generosity of the Marine Corps Heritage Foundation.

The History Division offers internships in six areas. They are: reference historians (servicing information requests from public and official sources, and research in branch holdings and official records); historical writing (primarily researching material to support writing projects, largely in primary source collections, although opportunities to compose original pieces are presented); oral historian assistants (cataloging and servicing collections); archives (cataloging and servicing collections); film and video assistants (cataloging and servicing collections); and editing and design (preparing manuscripts for publication, checking for presentation and visual appeal).

OCLC (Dublin, OH), Library, Archives & Museum Intern

https://oclc.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/OCLC\_Careers/job/Corporate-Office---Dublin/Archives---Museum-Intern\_R0001135

We are seeking an intern to join the OCLC Library, Archive, and Museum team of librarians located at OCLC's headquarters in Dublin, Ohio. Throughout this internship, our intern will gain insight into the work corporate special librarians do daily, network with library professionals, learn about the types of libraries OCLC serves, increase familiarity with OCLC products and services, and attend OCLC-sponsored events on a variety of professional topics. Dates for the internship will be from May 13 thru August 16, 2019 working full time during the summer months
