About SLA and the San Francisco Bay Area Chapter

April 24, 2011

About SLA

SLA (Special Libraries Association) is a nonprofit global organization for innovative information professionals and their strategic partners. SLA serves thousands of members in 83 countries in the information profession, including corporate, non-profit, academic and government information specialists. SLA's mission is to promote and strengthen its members through learning, advocacy, and networking initiatives.

About the San Francisco Bay Area Chapter

Mission: The San Francisco Bay Area Chapter of SLA will offer its members services and activities which anticipate and are responsive to member needs. The Chapter will take advantage of changing technologies to foster communication among the membership and educate members about opportunities for professional activity and participation.

Members of the San Francisco Bay Area Chapter of SLA work in diverse information environments ranging from business and technical organizations to research, government and academic institutions. We are found in public and private corporations, law firms, colleges and universities, banks and financial institutions, newspapers, hospitals, research facilities, public libraries, engineering and architectural firms, and elsewhere. Although many members work in corporate and special libraries, others are managers, researchers, analysts, technical services specialists, and consultants.

The San Francisco Bay Area Chapter was formed by the merging of the Silicon Valley and the San Francisco Bay Region chapters, effective January 1, 2018.

Our members share common goals: networking with our colleagues, keeping up with technological advances, staying current about the information professions, and participating in ongoing professional development. Membership in the SF Bay Area Chapter provides us with opportunities to achieve those goals.

Contact

For information about the chapter, contact the President-Elect (Membership Chair).

The San Francisco Bay Region Chapter gratefully acknowledges the California Museum of Photography at the University of California, Riverside, for permission to use a detail of San Francisco Bay from an Ansel Adams photograph. This photograph, taken from the Berkeley hills, has been published in the book Ansel Adams: Fiat Lux: The Premier Exhibition of Photographs of the University of California (Irvine: The Regents of the University of California, 1990). The detail is from a photograph titled "University of California, Berkeley, and the Golden Gate".

Professional Achievement Award

May 11, 2011

Purpose: to recognize one or more members for notable and enduring contributions to the Chapter and the profession. The Award represents a cumulative evaluation of an individual's career and emphasizes local activity and leadership of an exemplary nature. The Award is named "The San Francisco Bay Region Chapter Professional Achievement Award."

Frequency: The Award review process takes place annually. However, there is no requirement that the Award be given every year.

Criteria for recipient(s): To be eligible for the Award, the nominee(s) must be a current Chapter member, active or retired, in good standing.

The Award honors Chapter members who achieve distinction in areas of professional concern and activity. Particular attention should be given to local involvement and Chapter contributions.

Nominees may excel in one or more areas:

- Outstanding leadership in the Chapter, at meetings, and in committee work. Special and notable service to the Chapter, such as participation in special projects.
- Participation in seminars, teaching courses, and public speaking activities.

- Publication and editorial contributions to professional literature.
- Innovations at the worksite.
- Mentoring activities, which encourage others in the profession.
- Extracurricular activities, which provide the profession and/or the Chapter with commendable publicity and acclaim.
- Other achievements indicating noteworthy dedication to the profession of special librarianship/information science.

Procedure: Award nomination announcements

- Should be placed in the June/July and August/September issues of the Chapter Newsletter, Bayline, along with a Nomination Form, alerting the membership to the nomination process.
- Public announcements should also be made at the Summer and Fall Chapter meetings to encourage nominations and to remind members of the nomination deadline.
- Email should be sent to the Chapter email reflector and listserv twice.
- Final deadline for receipt of all nominations will be September 1.
- The Past President will notify the recipient immediately after the Executive Board approval has been given.

- The Chapter President will present the Award at the first Chapter meeting of the year. The President will write the speech for the President's presentation. The Chair will write an article to the newsletter editor for inclusion in the next issue of Bayline.

Award gift: certificate and gift or gift certificate relevant to the awardee's interests such as garden tools, books, tennis lessons, etc. and dinner for recipient and a guest at the meeting where award is presented.

History: Proposals to establish a Chapter award recognizing outstanding professional service achievements date back to 1980, when Association President, Joe Dagnese made the suggestion. The idea germinated through various phases of discussion and draft over several years, but no formal action was taken until July 1984, when the Executive Board created an Ad Hoc Committee to Establish a Chapter Award. The Ad Hoc Committee's recommendations were accepted by the Board, and the first Award Selection Committee was named in Fall, 1984. The first award was presented in May, 1985. The form of the award (an 8- or 9-inch silver-plated Revere bowl) and the wording of the engraving on it (SLA/San Francisco Bay Region Chapter/Award for Professional Achievement/Year/Recipient's name) was chosen by the first Award Selection Committee, but the bowl has been replaced by a gift relevant to the recipients' interests such as garden tools, books, tennis lessons, etc.

Student Conference Travel Stipend Award

August 3, 2013

San Francisco Bay Region Chapter Conference Travel Stipend Award

This award may be granted to a student member of the chapter who demonstrates interest in and involvement with the SLA organization and particularly the SF Bay Region chapter to support them in attending the SLA Annual Conference.

Award

Awardees will be granted a stipend of up to $750 to cover costs associated with attending the SLA Annual Conference. Those costs are understood to include conference registration, airfare, and hotel. The Board will consider other expenses with written documentation. Awardees will be granted the stipend on award, but will be required to document relevant expenses with receipts, per the post-award requirements. The awardee will be required to return the stipend in the event they are unable to attend the conference or fulfill any of the post-award requirements.

Application

Applicants must complete the form found 2014 SF Bay Region Chapter Conference Travel Stipend Application

Application must include their résumé and an essay of not more than 500 words describing the applicant's reasons for wanting to attend the SLA Annual Conference, and their expectations for professional advancement related to attending.

Applications must be received by February 15th of the application year for review by the Awards Committee, which is chaired by the chapter's Past President. The committee will recommend an awardee to the President, and the President will select an awardee no later than March 30th.

Eligibility

Applicants must be a member in good standing of the SF Bay Region chapter, be a current student, be able to attend the conference in the year in which they are applying, be willing to complete the post-award requirements detailed below, and must not have received the award in a past year. Current chapter Board members are not eligible.

Post-Award Requirements

1. At the conference, the awardee will be required to attend the Western States Chapters reception, where they will be recognized for their award.
2. Within one month of the close of the conference, awardees will submit receipts documenting their conference-related expenses.
3. Within 3 months of the close of the conference, awardees will write a brief article (approximately 1,000 words) on the conference experience for the chapter newsletter, Bayline.
4. In the year following their award, the awardee will be asked to serve on the Awards Committee, and assist in selecting the following year's winner.

The 2015 Student Conference Travel Stipend is generously sponsored by Annual Reviews.

Winners:

2014 – Rory Dougan
2014 – Henry Mensch

Intersect Alert

September 18, 2011

The Intersect Alert serves as a current awareness tool for Chapter members. The newsletter provides annotated links to news stories related to the intersection between libraries/librarians and the government. Included stories address a variety of issues including censorship, intellectual property, the information commons, open access, government services and calls to action. This newsletter is produced by the Chapter's Communications Committee. Contact person is Gena Rosati.

Refund Policy

May 28, 2011

We sometimes get questions concerning our refund policy for chapter events. We understand that things come up and you need to change your plans. After careful review, the Executive Board of the SF Bay Region Chapter of SLA has decided that we cannot accommodate refunds or "rain checks" for our events (this includes programs, tours, professional development workshops, etc.).

Some reasons why:

- Our chapter does not make a profit on our events. We subsidize our events because it is important to us to be able to keep our attendance fees low.
- We are required to pay in advance for food and venues, and these costs are frequently based on head count. Therefore, the chapter has already paid for your attendance.
- As a volunteer organization we are just not staffed to be able to keep track of refunds or attendance for future events.

So if you've paid for an event you find you cannot attend, please consider the following:

- Post a notice on Connect or our email list inviting a member to take your place.

- Think of it a tax-free donation to our organization.

SLA-SF Discussion List [archived]

May 8, 2011

NOTE: This page has information on the old (archived) discussion list

Welcome to the SLA-SF discussion list. This list was created to provide a means of discussing topics of interest to the members of the San Francisco Chapter of SLA.

The SLA-SF discussion list is provided by the San Francisco Chapter of the Special Libraries Association as a service to its members. SLA assumes no responsibility for the statements and opinions discussed on this list.

Discussion List Archives

Messages from November 12, 2001, to March 22, 2006, will be archived and available to read at <http://www.exo.net/sla-sf/hypermail/>

Messages from March 22, 2006, to December 8, 2006, will be archived at <http://www.exo.net/pipermail/sla-sf/>

Messages from December 8, 2006, to August 2016 will be archived at <http://sla.lyris.net/read/?forum=sla-csfo>. You need to sign in with your email address and give a password if you have set one.

Discussion List Guidelines

Appropriate topics for this list include, but are not limited to:

- workshops and seminars
- requests for volunteers for committee and Chapter projects
- committee and Chapter news
- news pertinent to the San Francisco Chapter community
- reference questions that are local in nature
- hard to find ILL requests that are local in nature
- “calls to action” (i.e. contacting legislators, etc.)

The discussion list should not be used to recruit for jobs. If you'd like to announce a job opening, please contact sfbayjobline@yahoo.com. The Chapter asks for a nominal fee of $25 for SLA members and $50 for non-members to list a job opening. More details on Jobline can be found on the Jobline page.

Try not to type in all caps. Otherwise, it looks like you are SHOUTING.

Always include a descriptive subject line. (If you subscribe in the Digest mode, when replying to the discussion list, TYPE IN A NEW SUBJECT, or else your subject line will read: “Re: SLA-SF Digest” and people may not read it.

Copyrighted materials should not be posted on the discussion list without the permission of the copyright holder(s).

Don't flame (criticize another member of the list) on the discussion list.

You should not send or respond to a “flaming” message.

Refrain from sending large files to the discussion list. Large files consume system resources and may cause your message to be undeliverable.

If at any time you are confused or need help, you can reach a live person by writing to sla-csfo-owner@sla.lyris.net.

Two Bay Area Students Awarded Stipends to Attend Library Conference In June

May 21, 2014

San Francisco, 21 May 2014 — The San Francisco Bay Region Chapter of the Special Libraries Association has presented awards for two students to attend SLA's annual conference next month in Vancouver, British Columbia. Both recipients of the San Francisco Bay Region Chapter's Conference Travel Stipend Award are enrolled in master's degree programs in library and information science.

Henry Mensch, who lives and works in San Francisco, attends Syracuse University's School of Information Studies distance education program and expects to graduate in May 2015. With a BS from Rochester Institute of Technology, he has many years' professional experience in IT and currently serves as newsletter editor for SLA's IT Division and is a member of the American Library Association Office for Information Technology Policy's Advisory Committee. At the conference, Mensch wants to meet up with fellow SLA IT Division members, who are located all over the world, as well as San Francisco region members, whom he has trouble connecting with due to his work schedule. He also knows the value of networking face to face as a newly minted librarian looking to put that education to work.

Rory Dougan attends San Jose State University, where he earned his BA degree in 2008 and now focuses on archival studies in the School of Library and Information Science. He plans to supplement those studies with sessions at the conference on developing classification schemes for managing records, creating and applying metadata to promote findability and using social media to promote special collections. Dougan currently serves as Chair of the SF Bay Region and Silicon Valley chapters' joint Jobline employment posting service. He lives in San Jose, interns as a library assistant for the city's public library and plans to graduate in December 2016.

Four members of SLA's San Francisco Bay Region Chapter evaluated applications for the student stipend award and found Mensch's and Dougan's compelling because of their demonstrated service to SLA through their volunteerism; evaluation of the conference and identification of sessions applicable to their interests and passions; and interest in networking and understanding of how their attendance could add value to our Chapter.

The San Francisco Bay Region Chapter Conference Travel Stipend Award covers up to $750 of costs associated with attending the SLA Annual Conference for a student member of the chapter who demonstrates interest in and involvement with the SLA organization and particularly the SF Bay Region chapter. The SF Bay Region Chapter planned to offer one stipend award this year, but was able to offer two thanks to a generous sponsorship offer by Annual Reviews.

The Special Libraries Association's 2014 Annual Conference & INFO-EXPO takes place June 8-10 at the Vancouver Convention Centre in Canada. With more than 200 events, including educational programs, networking events, receptions and tours, the conference will attract thousands of information professionals interested in collections, research/intelligence, information centers, knowledge management, web development, analytics, content management and more.

About the San Francisco Bay Region Chapter of SLA (<http://sanfrancisco.sla1.org/about/>):

Established in 1924, the chapter has been supporting the professional interests of librarians and information professionals for nearly 90 years. There are currently more than 300 members who are employed by law firms, corporations, universities, nonprofits, and other organizations or are interested in the information field, for instance students of library or information science.

About Annual Reviews

Annual Reviews is a nonprofit organization whose mission is to provide the worldwide scientific community with a useful and intelligent synthesis of the primary research literature for a broad spectrum of scientific disciplines. Each year, leading scientists critically review the most significant primary research literature to guide researchers to the principal contributions of their field and help them keep up to date in their area of research. Annual Reviews volumes are published each year for 46 focused disciplines within the Biomedical, Life, Physical, and Social Sciences including Economics.

About SLA

The Special Libraries Association (SLA) is a nonprofit international organization for innovative information professionals and their strategic partners. SLA serves 9,000 members in 75 countries in the information profession, including corporate, academic and government information specialists. SLA promotes and strengthens its members through learning, advocacy and networking initiatives. For more information, visit www.sla.org.

Volunteer

June 12, 2011

Chapter Member Volunteers Needed!

In addition to the satisfaction of helping ensure that important chapter functions and activities are carried out, you'll have opportunities to interact with colleagues and develop professional skills. As so many committee volunteers have discovered, you'll get more out than you put in!

To sign up, contact the President-Elect and include your contact information plus what you would like to help with. Some possible opportunities are listed below:

Bayline: edits and produces chapter online news

Diversity: plans events and programming reflecting the face of the membership

Jobline: updates job listings on Web site and phone line

New Professionals: coordinates activities with students in relevant local programs, and organizes continuing education programs for all Chapter members

Nominating: solicits and selects candidates to serve on our Chapter committees and executive board

Program: decides on topics and speakers and organizes meeting programs

Sponsorship: contacts vendors for support of chapter activities, including soliciting ads for the chapter newsletter

Technology & Innovation: maintains and develops chapter website

You may also wish to volunteer on an as-needed basis: help with an event (registering, set-up, etc.); write a blog post to share something cool about yourself; suggest a post to the Chapter's Twitter, LinkedIn, or Facebook ...
