

The SME Pittsburgh Section is preparing its fourth Spring Seminar Series. The Series will be held virtually on Tuesdays and Thursdays between 1:00 PM and 3:00 PM EST, with the first session tentatively scheduled to begin on Tuesday June 9, 2026. We welcome presentations covering the entire range of mining, metallurgy, and exploration and will organize the sessions by topic (i.e., Ventilation, Ground Control, Automation and AI in Mining, and Safety and Health).

There will be no cost to attend the Seminar Series, and those interested can earn PDH credits with a one-time fee of $75.

We welcome presenters from across the industry to include mine operators, consultants, and universities. Please complete this form if you would like your presentation to be considered for the Seminar Series. Forms are due by Friday May 8, and notifications of acceptance will be sent beginning Monday May 18, 2026. If you have any questions, please email PittSME.Seminar@gmail.com.
