

Team 2.2 – What Attributes Should Graduates Have?

- Group Leader – Dr. Fai Cheng
- Presenter – Edmond OW

Attributes that graduates should have

Communication/confidence/influence

- By effectively communicating ideas and having the confidence to influence the decision maker and target audience

Continuous self-learning

- In order to care for the environment, we need to have a life long learning attitude

Experience

- Gain extra experiences outside of the core disciplines

Ambitious

- The drive and determination to succeed

Networking

- Need to connect with people and share values/ideas

Attributes that graduates should have

Commitment

- Ability to bring ideas to fruition

Willing to share

- Learning from different people and organisation.

Innovative

- Ability to propose new and conventional solution for practical problems

Cost benefit awareness

- Every problems have constrains. Work within the constrains.

Discipline

Well rounded

- T-People

Awareness of the bigger picture

- Ability to see the relevance of a subject to the wider world or problem

Open mindedness

- To avoid getting stuck in the past
- The ability share views with opponents

Curiosity

- Ask WHY?

Positive attitude

- Ability to remain optimistic even in adverse conditions

Discipline

Holistic

- Need to take into account of all the factors

Responsible

- Take ownership of whatever you want to do

Not afraid of making mistakes

- Not afraid to get involved in discussions to obtain solutions

Blue sky thinker

- Radical
- Creative

Caring

- Brains alone are not enough. You need to have a heart too.1