Wednesday, October 17, 2012, 11:30 AM - 1:00 PM (Central Standard Time)

Speaker: Frank Peterman

Title: Permian Basin 2013 - An Activity Overview

Abstract

The recent advances in horizontal drilling and completion techniques combined with the multiple pay opportunities that exist in the Permian Basin one of the most attractive investment areas in the US. The expected competition for quality goods and services is predicted to be record levels. This discussion will take a look at important considerations that each operator must address in order to execute an effective completion program for 2013. Discussion topics will include (but not be limited to) rig forecasting, completions, infrastructure and asset utilization.

Biography

Frank Peterman serves as COO of J Cleo Thompson, one of the largest private oil & gas companies in the Permian Basin. He has over 26 years Basin oil & gas experience, starting with the Western Company after he received his Petroleum Engineering degree from Texas Tech. Frank co with Louis Dreyfus in 2000, who was eventually bought out by Dominion E&P in 2001 where he managed the drilling and completion operations on the Permian Basin. After Dominion divested their E&P assets, Frank accepted a position as Permian Production Manager for HighMount E&P eventually promoted to Eastern Region VP in 2009, and was promoted to Operations VP after the Eastern Region assets were divested in 2010. Frank worked for J Cleo Thompson since 2011 and his current and prior teams have accomplished the following:
