

LD Faculty Posting Description

The Department of Special Education & Communication Sciences and Disorders, College of Education at Eastern Michigan University, is seeking applicants for one tenure track position in Special Education: Learning Disabilities. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor with a start in Fall 2021. The Department of Special Education & Communication Sciences and Disorders, College of Education at Eastern Michigan University, is seeking applicants for one tenure track position in Special Education: Learning Disabilities. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor with a start in fall F2021.

Principal Duties and Responsibilities

Teach undergraduate, graduate, and specialist courses for preservice and in-service teachers in the Learning Disabilities program area in addition to general special education courses, including some in field-based settings.

Establish, develop, and maintain an active research agenda and related disseminations in the form of scholarly publications, grant proposals, and/or conference presentations, including the mentoring of graduate and undergraduate student research projects.

Assist with the design of courses for the Learning Disabilities undergraduate and graduate programs in the areas of reading, written expression, and mathematics.

Maintain an active service record at the department, college, and university levels, in addition to establishing partnerships with local K-12 schools.

Perform related Departmental duties as required.