Engaging Families as Partners to Achieve High Expectations

DCDT Pre-conference Session (1:00—4:00)

In this interactive session, the panel will provide diverse perspectives to enable participants to evaluate their own family engagement practices during the transition process. Presenters will share their personal experiences as dual stakeholders (family and professionals) and new resources to support professionals as they expand partnerships for achieving higher expectations for transitioning youth with disabilities. Participants will be explore new tools for strategic planning.

Wed., November 4, 2015

Portland, Oregon

Amy Pleet-Odle, Inclusion Focused Coaching

Sean Roy, PACER Center

Ginger Kwan, Open Doors for Multicultural Families

Kara Hirano, Univ. of Oregon

DCDT

DIVISION ON CAREER DEVELOPMENT AND TRANSITION

COUNCIL FOR EXCEPTIONAL CHILDREN