Christa Johnson, PhD, MBA

Senior Associate Vice President for Research | Colorado State University

Christa Johnson, Senior Associate Vice President for Research Administration at Colorado State University, serves as a key member of the Office of the Vice President for Research (OVPR) leadership team, and an advocate and advisor to the vice president for research and operational activities. In this role, Johnson is responsible for the implementation of programs and the deployment of resources to strengthen CSU's research administrative infrastructure with an emphasis on the areas of sponsored programs and research services. Prior to joining Colorado State University, Johnson served as Assistant Vice Chancellor for Sponsored Research Services at Washington University in St. Louis, where she led several process and quality-improvement initiatives for research administration, including consolidating and streamlining contracting and grants processes in the Office of Sponsored Research Services. At Washington University Johnson also co-led assessment projects related to research administration IT systems and served as interim Assistant Vice Chancellor for Compliance and Research Education and Information. Johnson is an active member of the Federal Demonstration Partnership (FDP) and the Council on Government Relations (COGR), a recipient of several awards, has presented at more than 50 national and regional meetings and workshops, and co-chaired several national conferences.
