DESCRIPTION

The aim of this session is to demystify the identification of funding opportunities by providing tips and techniques as well as an overview of various types of electronic search directories, engines, services and databases. Key considerations such as application due date, funding limitation, eligibility and other restrictions will be covered. Additionally search strategies using a wide range of funding programs, sources and opportunities applicable to specialty are provided. Participants will also review email alert services and the use of social media, particularly twitter streams as an optimal tool in funding development and dissemination of funding trends and opportunities in a global context. Tracking funding trends utilizing agency funding databases, new award reporting and forecasting via research.gov are also outlined. Other approaches to finding funding such as attending professional meetings to connect with program officers as well as interact with peers with similar interest will be discussed.

FIND

► Objectives

- 1. Identify funding opportunities utilizing electronic, social media and interpersonal mechanisms.
- 2. Examine best practices in communicating funding opportunities and programs of significance to investigators and interested parties.

WHY FIND FUNDING

- ▶ Research funding is crucial because it provides the resources, tools, and infrastructure necessary to conduct high-quality research that advances knowledge and addresses real-world problems.
- ▶ Without funding, researchers may lack access to essential equipment, personnel, and collaborations, hindering their ability to make meaningful discoveries.

WHY FIND FUNDING

- ▶ NIH's mission is to seek fundamental knowledge about the nature and behavior of living systems and the application of that knowledge to enhance health, lengthen life, and reduce illness and disability.
- ▶ AHA's mission is to be a relentless force for a world of longer, healthier lives.
- ▶ PCORI helps people make informed healthcare decisions, and improves healthcare delivery and outcomes, by producing and promoting high-integrity, evidence-based information that comes from research guided by patients, caregivers, and the broader healthcare community.

- Leadership
- Organization Chart

The CDMRP originated in 1992 via a Congressional appropriation to foster novel approaches to biomedical research in response to the expressed needs of its stakeholders- the American public, the military, and Congress.

Hallmarks of the CDMRP include:

- investing in groundbreaking research
- targeting critical gaps
- reviewing application using a two-tier formal review with no standing peer review

GRANT FORWARD

Subscribing to GrantForward

GrantForward Funding Discovery and Grant Dissemination Service provides research institutions (universities, centers, laboratories, and private organizations) with a subscription-based service. Once an institution subscribes to GrantForward, every member can access the database at GrantForward.com to search for grants and receive personalized information such as profile-based grant recommendations or administrator-shared grants.

GrantForward uses advanced technologies to offer extremely competitive pricing which is affordable for both large universities and smaller colleges. Price is determined by your institution size-- in terms of both total population and annual research expenditures. Please contact support@grantforward.com for detailed subscription plans and pricing.

We strongly recommend you join a 30-day free trial to test out our platform. It's completely free with no obligations and everyone in your institution can join the trial with access to the full functionality of the system.
