

2022 JANICE BAHR JUNIOR SCIENTIST TRAVEL AWARD CRITERIA AND APPLICATION PROCESS

JANICE BAHR JUNIOR SCIENTIST TRAVEL AWARD (supported by Janice Bahr) is a self-nominated award and was established in 2017 to recognize a Regular Member of the Society, an active Assistant Professor or position of similar rank on the tenure-track.

Requirements:

- Individual must be a regular member of SSR
- Provide proof of appointment as an Assistant Professor or position of similar rank and be less than 5 years into a tenure track/ similar appointment
- Be employed by a U.S or international academic institution

Application Components:

1. Statement of Purpose - Please submit a statement (2-page maximum) describing your professional accomplishments that qualify you as a competitive applicant for the award. Specifically detail your accomplishments in the areas of research, education, and service.
2. Recommendation Letters (sent directly to SSR)
3. Curriculum Vitae

Current Members of the Awards Committee are not eligible to be nominated. View current Awards Committee Members HERE. See descriptions of individual awards for any other specific requirements.

Nominations Deadline is August 15th, 2021. Send nominating materials to: Dr. Melissa Pepling, Chair, SSR Awards Committee, e-mail: awards@ssr.org by August 15th, 2021.

Please send all nomination materials in a single, consolidated PDF file in the order specified above with the file name format AWARDEE NAME_2022_AWARD NAME, if possible. The preferred method is e-mail to facilitate prompt review by the entire Awards Committee, but please contact Dr. Pepling by email if you must send any nomination documents via a different means.

View previous Janice Bahr Junior Scientist Travel Fund recipients HERE