

Matthew Sontag

Manager, Corporate Tax Office Services
RSM US LLP
McLean, VA
+1 703 336 6346
matthew.sontag@rsmus.com

Summary of Experience

Matt's background, combining public accounting with multiple roles in the tax department of a U.S. multi-national corporation, has given him the ability to identify and implement practical solutions to real-world challenges. He has broad experience with both tax technical and tax technology projects, allowing him to help clients bridge these two very different worlds.

Prior to joining RSM, Matt spent three years with the headquarters tax group of the AES Corporation, a Fortune 200 multi-national electricity generation and distribution company. While there, Matt worked in a variety of roles, from tackling advanced international tax planning projects to managing systematic technology-driven process improvement initiatives.

Prior to AES, Matt spent five years as an international tax professional with KPMG, first in the Houston field office and then with the firm's Washington National Tax practice.

Areas of Expertise

- Tax technology – design, implementation, and training
- US Federal taxation of multinational corporations, including compliance and information reporting
- USGAAP accounting for income taxes under ASC 740

Professional Affiliations and Credentials

- CPA (Texas)

Education

Bachelor of Arts, Rice University
Juris Doctor and Master of Laws in Taxation, University of Houston Law Center