Day 2 – January 29, 2026

12:00 – 2:30 pm ET

Session 1: Top 10 Trouble Tags: Fix It Before You're F-Tagged!

Speaker: Chelsea Danna, MEd, RD, LDN

Navigating long-term care surveys can be daunting, especially for dietary and nutrition services. We will dive into the most frequently cited F-Tags related to nutrition and food service. We'll break down the meaning and root causes of each deficiency, share real-world examples, and provide simple, effective strategies to prevent citations. You'll walk away with practical tools for audit readiness, staff training, documentation, and kitchen compliance.

Competency codes: 1.2.2, 4.2.3, 8.2.7, 11.6.1, 13.4.2

Session 2: From Risk to Reimbursement: Building a Malnutrition Documentation System for PDPM Success

Speaker: Kim Fremont, MEd, RD, LD

Under the Patient-Driven Payment Model (PDPM), accurate identification and documentation of malnutrition can significantly impact Non-Therapy Ancillary (NTA) reimbursement. Participants will review the components needed including validated screening tools, nutrition assessments, and collaborate with interdisciplinary teams to ensure that malnutrition diagnoses are properly supported and coded. Through practical examples and policy review, attendees will gain the tools to strengthen their documentation practices, reduce payment denials, and elevate the value of nutrition services in skilled nursing settings.

Competency codes: 8.4.9, 14.3.7, 15.2.6

Session 3: Surviving the Survey: Staff Training for Success

Speaker: Pam Brummit, MA, RD/LD

Surveys are stressful – especially for staff. This session will review key strategies for staff preparation. Attendees will leave with training tips and tools for success.

Competency codes: 14.1.1, 15.1.5, 15.4.4, 15.4.6
