We stand on the shoulders of giants – as they were great leaders, we must continue their work, and lead the next generation by coming on board.”

-Dr. Evelyn Crayton

NOBIDAN MISSION

Provide a forum for professional development and support of dietetics, optimal nutrition and well-being for the general public, particularly those of African descent.

Who are we?

A professional organization of nearly 600 African American dietetic and nutrition practitioners as well as members of other ethnic backgrounds committed to our mission. We have served members for over 50 years as a networking group. In 2008, NOBIDAN became the fourth Member Interest Group of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics.

WHY BECOME A MEMBER:

NOBIDAN offers several member benefits including:

- Professional development CPEU workshops and webinars
- Leadership opportunities
- Mentoring and networking opportunities
- Student scholarships
- Quarterly newsletters
- Connections with friends and colleagues
- Networking Meet-up events across the country

Other Benefits:

- Ability to contribute to the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Solona McDonald Scholarship
- FNCE® Spotlight Sessions
- Support young dietitians and nutrition professionals of African decent

"I was surprised to see such little diversity in my graduate program and even less within my dietetic internship class. NOBIDAN was a place where I could be a part of a community where we shared a passion for nutrition and could also see ourselves be represented in the field. I joined to give and receive support from colleagues who looked like I did."

-Elise Harrison, Dietetic Intern, Brooklyn College, 2019-20
