EMERGING PROFESSIONAL IN WOMEN'S HEALTH AWARD

PURPOSE

The purpose of the 'Emerging Professional in Women's Health Award' is to recognize a member of the Women's Health Dietetic Practice Group (WH DPG) who has exhibited interest and initiative in the area of women's health.

A. Criteria for Selection of the Emerging Professional in Women's Health

1. Current member of WH DPG
2. Not a previous recipient of the 'Emerging Professional in Women's Health Award'
3. Participated and provided leadership in Academy, DPG, or state-affiliate organization such as committee service, newsletter contributions, and other volunteer work
4. Demonstrated research or practice (professional or volunteer) in the area of women's health

B. Procedure for Selection

The complete responsibility for the selection of the 'Emerging Professional in Women's Health' rests with the WH DPG nominating committee.

The coordinator is the WH DPG Awards Chair.

All applications will be scored blindly and in the event of a tie, the WH DPG Chair will make the final decision.

C. Action Following Selection

The selected individual will receive an award of $250 and a certificate—presented at the WH DPG Business Meeting at the Food and Nutrition Conference Expo (FNCE).

The individual will also be featured in the Women's Health newsletter.
