Explanation of Metrics and Data Sources

Pending Sales — A count of the homes under contract when the data was run and expected to close soon.

Closed Sales — A count of the homes that were sold during the time period noted.

Average Sales Price — Calculated by adding the sales price of each Closed Sale and dividing them by the total number of Closed Sales. This metric can be skewed by individual sales prices that are extremely high or low.

Median Sales Price — The price at which half of the Closed Sales sold for more, and half sold for less.

Monthly Dollar Volume — Calculated by adding the sales price of each Closed Sale.

Active Listings — A count of the homes available for sale on the last day of the time period noted.
